Ladies' Aid.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will meet with Mrs. W. H. Faulkner on River street today (March 16.) All members are urgently requested to attend, as this will be an interesting meeting, besides a real good time is anticipated.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Saturday afternoon at the Gymnasium, the Barbourville High School Girls' and Boys' Basket Ball teams played the Pineville High School Girls and Boys' Basket Ball teams. The games, however, were not as exciting as other games previously played this season, as our teams ran the score up so far in advance of the Pineville teams there was no doubt as to who would win. The score of the girls' game was: Barbourville 30; Pineville, 7. Our boys, as usual, were also victorious, the score being: Barbourville 69; Pineville 21.

Below are the line-ups and points:

Barbourville Girls—

Margaret Hershburg, 1. F.
Mae Mayhew, 29. F.
Bess Williams, 0. C.
Georgia Bunch, 0. G.
Lenora Lewis, 0. G.

Pineville Girls—

Virginia Burchfield, 0. F.
Nell Putnam, 7. F.
Mary Brooklyn, 0. C.
Mary Asher, 0. G.
Hattie B. Ewing, 0. G.

Barbourville Boys—

J. Faulkner, 23. F.
L. Jones, 20. F.
E. King, 8. C.
S. C. Williams, 0. G.
J. Hinkle, 18. G.

Pineville Boys—

Slusher, 2. F.
Arnett, 11. F.
Howard, 4. C.
Glickman, 0. G.
Creech, 4. G.

This week Professor Oldfield's room, the Sophomores and the Seniors regained the attendance—Punctuality Banner. Most of the absences this week were due to the "high water," which made it impossible for some students to reach the school two days last week. The general average for each room was—

Professor Oldfield, 92 per cent.
Professor Faulkner, 91.86 per cent.

Miss Belly, 90.14 per cent.
Professor Mills, 89.08 per cent.
Miss Barton, 87.13 per cent.
Miss Parker, 86.51 per cent.
Miss Prater, 84 per cent.

For several weeks our students have been saving old paper, which they will bale and ship away, disposing of same to some manufacturer. They are trying to get a carload between now and commencement time. Won't you help them? W. H. McDonald has kindly given us the loan of his paper baler. Now, we de-

The Civic League.

The Civic League met at the home of Mrs. W. W. Tinsley on Thursday, Mar. 8, with a good attendance. The meeting was very enjoyable and all the members were very enthusiastic about the fountain for the public square and the library which will be started in a small way. The book shower will be held soon and all citizens are requested to watch for the notice of it. Books and magazines which may be presented will be much appreciated.

The subject of keeping the dust down this summer was also discussed.

After adjournment, delicious refreshments were served by Mesdames Rathfon, Marcum and Kennedy.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Tye, March 22. All members are requested to be present as this will be one of the most important meetings of the year.

Mrs. R. W. Cole, Pres.

F. J. MITCHELL.

The forthcoming election of county officials, which has already stirred many candidates to get on and mix with their many friends and constituents, is growing more interesting with the passing of days. There will be many aspirants in the field, some for re-election and others seeking a new office. Among the energetic ones who are not allowing friend nor foe to outwit him in his race is F. J. Mitchell, who is now serving his first term, and is a candidate for re-election to the office of Jailor.

There are few men in the county who could have given as faithful service as has the present incumbent. He has filled the position to the entire satisfaction of a large number who have occasion to know something of his qualifications for work of this character. He is not overbearing but gentle and kind; he is not lenient but fair; not harsh but courteous and affable. He has the esteem and respect of a large circle who know him to be as fair and square as the pattern for making men is able to produce. In the person of Mr. Mitchell the town and county has an efficient officer, and it would be hard indeed to secure one who would serve more faithfully or more satisfactorily.

Patriotism.

Our free school here in the City of Barbourville was presented with a beautiful United States flag and a Bible several years ago, and, since the new school building has been completed, this flag has never waived over the building.

Why don't some patriotic person or persons get busy and have a flag pole erected over that building so that the children that are coming on can see "Old Glory" waving over the place where they should be taught patriotism?

We would suggest that some one make up a purse for that purpose. Let us practice what we preach. Let us place the Word of God in the building and keep it there to be read, and let the flag of this nation wave over those who will soon be its defenders. Don't all speak at once?

THE CALL.

The following poem was clipped from The Post-Intelligencer, Seattle, Wash., and was written by John Gill Matthews, Jr., who, it will be remembered, was born in Barbourville, but has been living in Seattle for some time. It shows that he still has the true patriotic Kentucky spirit.

A call, I voice, for soldiers,

For there's war the nation-wide;

Every able-bodied man and boy

Must defend his country's pride.

Let noncombatants and weaklings

Cheer their fathers, brothers, sons,

As they march the streets parading,

Or they charge our foemen's guns.

Let the tradesman, in his workshop,

Temper steel and mold the shell,

So the boys that fight for Uncle Sam,

Can do their duty well.

Let the farmer open his storehouse,

Let the rich man give his gold,

Let our men be quick to answer

When the muster drum is rolled.

For its war our country faces—

Mighty, sanguine, ruthless war—

And its "up" to us Americans

To show them what we are.

Let us fight for all that's in us;

Give our all for our great land.

All we have our country gave us;

Now's the time to show our hand.

In Coma Thirty-six Hours

After remaining unconscious more than thirty-three hours from a disease of the brain, which has puzzled four prominent physicians of the city who were called into consultation, Mrs. C. K. Dickey, wife of Rev. C. K. Dickey, died at 12:15 o'clock this morning at her residence, 2636 Virginia avenue.

Dr. J. B. Lukins, Dr. Carl Weidener, Dr. William Jenkins and Dr. L. A. Arnold were at the woman's bedside almost constantly. Dr. Lukins declared the case is the most peculiar he has encountered in his experience as a physician.

On December 20, 1916, Mrs. Dickey and her husband, who is pastor of the Virginia Avenue Methodist Church, were seated together at their home when Mrs. Dickey suddenly fell unconscious to the floor. The only cause of the attack that physicians could discover was brain trouble.

Mrs. Dickey remained unconscious for twenty-four hours and again was her normal self, with no physical illness. On February 6 there was another attack and this time she was unconscious for ten hours. The last attack came two days ago, and the physicians still were unable to determine the nature of the disease.

Dr. and Mrs. Dickey came to Louisville in April, 1916, from Millersburg. Mrs. Dickey was 37 years old.—Louisville (Ky.) Herald.

Rev. Dickey, at one time, was pastor of the M. E. Church, South, at this place, and was well liked by all who knew him. And we feel sure that everyone who knew him would hasten to say a word of condolence in this his sad hour of bereavement over the loss of his loved one.

Oil on Indian Creek.

Last week, the company that was drilling on Indian Creek just to see what could be found in that neck of the woods, were both surprised and overjoyed—they struck, we are informed, a real old time producer. The well has not been tested yet, as they had no tanks in which to store the oil, and it is a little too high now to waste any, but the fellows who are at the head of the concern are of the old school and know a good thing when they find it. They are of that class who do not go fox hunting with a brass band. We are told they screwed a cap over the top of the hole good and strong, which means to any and all that there is something down in that hole.

Three Times in one Place

Last Tuesday night about 9:15 the fire alarm was turned in and the people of the little city were going in every direction trying to locate the fire. Finally they followed the hose wagon which took them to Union College, where the power house was on fire. They soon had it extinguished and went their way. At 11:30 another alarm was turned in from the same place. Again at 2:30 it was discovered that the fire had rekindled but no alarm was turned in. Bert Churchill extinguished it this time and he concluded that it was safest to sit up and watch it, which he did. Altho it created quite an excitement, the damage will not exceed $150.00. The necessary repairs were made and no time lost.

Can the President Do It?

Much was said last fall during the campaign for President about the railroad men's strike. At that time it was easy for any man to have a lot to say about the politics or the force brought upon the President of the United States to avert the strike and to induce the men to call off the strike which appeared to be a foregone conclusion.

To Mr. Wilson, it must be admitted, he is the greatest politician in the world today. He carried every point he undertook; he was re-elected by a safe majority by the mismanagement of the Republican leaders and the hardhead tactics of Senator Hiram Johnson.

But the question is: Can the President of the United States avert the strike? It is scheduled for tomorrow (Saturday) night. We hope he can and does. The country is now in the most perilous condition in its history. With wars and rumors of wars, with starvation looking millions of our people in the face, with the railroad men working overtime trying to give the people relief a strike would mean the unheard-of suffering among the rich and the poor alike.

We do not blame the railroad men for wanting an increase in wages. Everything else has gone its limit, it seems to us, but there is a time for all things. This is not the time for strikes of any kind. The railroad men are paid good wages better than any other class of labor. They are entitled to good wages, for their work is hazardous, but this is not the time or place, it seems to us, to strike. Why not wait until the war cloud has cleared away, until times shall become normal? It looks to us like every true American could and should stand behind the President of the United States in any and all things, at least until he shall have either averted the war, or until he shall have victoriously carried the STARS AND STRIPES to victory over any and all her enemies.

If these railroad men would only "Stop! Look! Listen!" read in their imagination, the signs at the road crossing, then think of the awful crash that is before them in the event of the strike, of the little ones that will stand with withered and trembling hands outstretched asking for bread, and the poor women that have been left alone in the world that will ask for support that will have to be denied because there is no way to supply them, they will behold the "Red Flag" and come to a halt with this terrible calamity that this strike would bring.

The Corbin Times.

The Corbin Times took exception the other day at something that the ADVOCATE had said in regard to candidates advertising in the Whitley county paper for offices in Knox county.

Now, the editor of the Times and the editor of the ADVOCATE are friends and have always been friends, and we hope the friendship now existing will last until Gabriel shall sound the end of time. We did not say anything about the Times. We did not mention the fact that Corbin had a newspaper, but the Times took occasion to say the ADVOCATE was a "thumb paper." Well, it may be a "thumb paper," but it is all HOME-MADE, with no ready print, old stale, and no boiler plate that is made in some remote city. Yet every week the citizens of Knox county send their way to the postoffice, where they eagerly snatch this "thumb paper" and scan its columns for the real home news. It goes to every postoffice in the county; it does not stop in Knox county, it goes to every State in the Union. It does not want to, nor will it jump on the papers with a smaller circulation. We do not want to make war with our contemporaries. They, as well as we, have to scratch like the very mischief to keep going. We do not blame any man for boosting his business, he ought to, for they, like we, need all they can get and as much more. Why "de Lord bless your soul, honey" we did not call your name or say anything about you. Let's kiss and make up, and henceforth don't call an all-home print paper a "thumb paper." Some of the fellows that happen to get hold of your voluminous paper and finds that it is mostly patent print or "boiler plate" and compare the two for real home news. This might hurt your paper, and we would dislike very much to see it.

Not be a Candidate

My Friends and the Citizens and Taxpayers of Knox County:

I desire to say that I have been a Justice of the Peace from the Seventh Magisterial District since 1905. I have been elected three times on the Republican ticket, and I have stood by that ticket in all its weakness.

I have now about ten months to serve the people of this county, and I fear no evil of what I have done, and I expect to be as diligent the remainder of my term as I have been in the past.

I have stood by the interest of the people in some very dark hours, knowing there were great burdens of taxation about to be placed upon them.

I have fought the sale of more bonds upon the county in the past year to pay its unnecessary indebtedness which had accrued, and I will continue to oppose this the remainder of my term.

I feel that I have done my whole duty as to the representation of the Seventh District and the county as a whole.

As to the various lines of pike road I have always cast my vote to build the pikes to accommodate the people who had no transportation.

In other words, I was opposed to the spending of all the county money along the side of the Louisville & Nashville railroad.

I want to say that I hold no ill will against any citizen where the roads are now located, neither do I think I should be censured for wanting a portion of the road to go through a portion of the district which I represent.

I hope to see this work make rapid progress without any fault or negligence on the part of the Fiscal Court.

As to the plan of selling bonds on the county to pay the debts which has accrued by the different courts of the county there are ways much safer and quicker than the mortgaging of the people's property. And I feel they would be more appreciated by the people when they saw them carried out with safety first.

I speak what I have said, not from theory but from experience, knowing well that the people are standing in need of a strict, obedient and prosperous court.

I hope in the coming election that the people will elect a full court that are interested in building roads in all parts of the county and that will take care of the general welfare of the people.

I now say to my friends, thanking them for their kindness, that I will not be a candidate for the office of County Judge at the coming election.

Very truly,

E. MCKEEHAN.

Rank Foolishness

You occasionally see it stated that colds do not result from cold weather. That is rank foolishness. Were it true colds would be as prevalent in midsummer as in midwinter. The microbe that causes colds flourishes in damp, cold weather. To get rid of a cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective and is highly recommended by people who have used it for many years as occasion required, and know its real value. Obtainable everywhere.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Since the day when the German military machine started on its march through Belgium, the world has resounded with praise for Teutonic efficiency. The thoroughness of the proposition for war in the German Empire under Prussia's leadership was held up as a model for other peoples. This efficiency, covering all branches of economic endeavor, was the result of years of intense and systematic preparation. Its one aim was war and the wonderful economic development which made Hamburg and Bremen, the great free ports, hives of industry was, while apparently peaceful in its motive, ultimately designed for expansion by arms.

Yet, without a blare of trumpets, machinery which eventually will be fully as efficient has been moving in America. Beginning with the farms east and west of the Alleghenies where food for millions, not only for Americans, but those in other lands has been produced, and in the cotton fields of the South and in the factories everywhere from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a vast industrial force working for peaceful ends is now entering upon a period of activity. Whether actual war is entered into or not, there will be a demonstration of American efficiency.

After all has been said, there is no more imposing demonstration of the unity of a people anywhere than can be seen in this country. Whether it be for defense or offense, American farmers, machinists, engineers and chemists can produce more useful things than those of any nation. Great factories engaged in peace-time occupations can be soon adjusted to the manufacturing of our supplies of every description at a moment's notice. Pessimists who have deplored the decadence of the old American spirit have no place in the economy of things at this time. History has shown the wonderful adaptability of the American people and there is no reason to believe that when the emergency comes it will be lacking.

A feature of the Inaugural Parade in Washington was the wonderful showing made by both arms of the national service. The future officers of the army who marched as the West Point cadets brought cheers from the crowds that lined Pennsylvania avenue. The sailors, however, aroused the greatest enthusiasm. Headed by the battalion from the Naval Academy at Annapolis, the bluejackets from some of the navy's ships and the lads from the training stations caught the fancy of the Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of Vendt directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's office of Knox Circuit Court, in favor of J. D. Taggle, No. 2329 of Book No. 2, against L. D. Stanfill, J. F. Stanfill and D. B. Faulkner, I, or one of my deputies, will on Monday the 26th day March, 1917, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. at the court house door in Barbourville, Knox County, Ky., expose to sale to the highest bidder the following property, (or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of the Plaintiff's debt, interest and cost: $339.00 and Sheriff's commission and cost of sale): Situated in South Barbourville, Kentucky and being lots Nos. one, two, three and four in block No. 2 of Barbourville Land & Improvement Company Addition to Barbourville as shown by map recorded in Deed Book "S" at page 409, Knox County Court Clerk's office, and the same lots described in a deed from G. M. Faulkner & Co. to L. D. Stanfill, dated May 26, 1893, recorded in said office in Deed Book "T" at page 150, levied on as the property of L. D. Stanfill. Also the third tract of land described in the deed from John H. Catron and Sarah Catron to J. F. Stanfill recorded in said Clerk's office in Deed Book "S" at page 494, December 12, 1894 and being a strip of land back of lots Nos. one, two, three and four in block No. 2 in said addition, and lying above where the West line of lot four extended will strike the river: levied on as the property of J. F. Stanfill.

Terms: Sale will be made on a credit of three months, bond with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum from day of sale, and having the force and effect of a replevin bond.

This 16 day of February, 1917.

Saves Eggs

Royal Baking Powder makes it possible to produce appetizing and wholesome cakes, muffins, cornbread, etc., with fewer eggs than are usually required.

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced and excellent results obtained by adding an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following tested recipe is a practical illustration:

SPONGE CAKE
 DIRECTIONS—Boil sugar and water until syrup spins a thread and add to the stiffly beaten whites of eggs, beating until the mixture is cold. Stir together three times the flour, salt and baking powder, beat yolks of eggs until thick; add a little at a time flour mixture and egg yolks alternately to white of egg mixture, stirring after each addition. Add 1/4 cup cold water and flavoring. Mix lightly and bake in moderate oven one hour.

The old method called for 6 eggs and no baking powder

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Made from Cream of Tartar, derived from grapes, adds none but healthful qualities to the food.

Hon. Henry Schwitters of Louisville, Great Senior Senator of Kentucky, was in the city last night. He is the son of H. Schwitters that he always was.

Mrs. S. B. Hoskins and Mrs. Hays will hold their annual spring millinery opening, Friday, March 19. The ladies are invited to call and see the greatest display of millinery ever shown in this city.

Mrs. C. B. Lytle and daughter, Mrs. J. B. Lucas, of Manchester returned from Cincinnati, Monday, enroute to their home. Mrs. Lucas had been to the Queen City to purchase her stock of millinery.

Judge Rev. White of Lexington was registered at Hotel Jones, Tuesday, enroute to Manchester, where the Judge spent the better part of his life. He will visit his relatives and many friends in old Clay for a short time.

Judge and Mrs. D. V. Lytle of Manchester were registered at Hotel Jones this week. In explaining his visit, the Judge remarked: "I came 'to feed up.' And the way he 'went after it' demonstrated that he was not fabricating.

Mrs. Flem D. Sampson, who had been spending some time with her husband, Judge Sampson, at Frankfort; Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sampson, of Louisville, and her brother, Dr. J. R. Steele, at Junction City, has returned home. She reports having had a good time.

Our old college chum and brother editor, Hon. G. J. Jarvis, of Pineville, gave us the glad hand and warm heart Monday, and casually remarked: "You are moving things up here, and your oil strikes are certain to bring revenue into your city and your county."

Prof. G. Brittain Lytle, Spanish teacher of Barbourville, visited Pineville, Friday, where he made arrangements to teach a large class in Spanish for the quarter following the termination of his engagement here. Professor Lytle is recognized dean of his profession in the United States from New Orleans, La., to San Francisco, Calif.

W. M. Rasner of Williamsburg, who has thrown his hat into the ring to represent the people of Knox and Whitley counties in the General Assembly, called Monday to grasp our "mit." Though the "Chief" was confined to his room, Mr. Rasner was entertained by the "devil" and other members of the Advocate force.

It is said that Manchester, our neighbor, is going to install an electric light plant. It is time for the citizens of that thriving village to awaken from their Rip Van Winkle slumber. Either light up or light out. Then will be erected a wagon bridge over Goose Creek, and last, but by no means least, an officer to see that the precincts remain away from the passenger station. These improvements would make Manchester an ideal city.

sire to ask the citizens of Barbourville to co-operate with the students who are willing and anxious to earn some money for school improvements. Old paper of any sort—newspapers, cereal boxes, catalogues, magazines, waste paper, envelopes—any kind of paper in any form, shape or fashion, just so it is paper. Now, most people are only too glad to get rid of old paper, which so rapidly accumulates and is in the way that every day thousands of pounds are burned or destroyed here in Barbourville. Please do not burn it—save it for the High School Improvement Plan. All you need do is phone Prof. or Oldfield or inform any of the teachers and the paper will be removed at once to the High School out of your way with thanks. Let us see how many pounds we can collect. [Come, ye boys and girls, every Saturday morning with your sacks to the ADVOCATE—THE DEVIL.]

This week we have been particularly favored with visits from friends of the school.

Hon. J. M. Robison held the rap attention of each and every student when he gave a most excellent talk on "Riches," showing that everyone who possesses a healthy mind and healthy body is rich indeed. We gladly welcome Mr. Robison and extend the invitation to him to come often.

Superintendent W. W. Evans also made us a visit this week. He brought his Victrola and treated the students to some good music. Not only that but he also made a very instructive talk on "Opportunities," especially the opportunities offered to the students, who do not stop after reaching the Eighth Grade, but who enter and receive a free High School education.

Rev. Creal led chapel exercises Friday morning, and, as usual, gave the students some interesting things to think about.

City Barber Shop.

This new name was brought forth last week when B. E. & W. F. Parker purchased the entire barber shop outfit of Moore & Davis in the Sallie Hoskins Building, next door to the First National Bank, on the Public Square, and named it "City Barber Shop."

All the barbers who formerly worked for Moore & Davis have been retained, to-wit: F. Moore, K. F. Davis, James Bullock and Leonard Davis. "The people who know these gent men can testify to the fact that no better barbers are to be found anywhere. They certainly know their business, and will give you their highest and best service."

It is the intention of the owners and managers to so conduct the affairs of this shop that the work shall be first-class at all times. Your patronage is kindly solicited and satisfaction guaranteed.

Baird for County Court Clerk of Knox County.

We are authorized to announce Thomas W. Baird, of Lay, as a candidate for County Court Clerk of Knox County, subject to the action of the Republican primary August 4, 1917.

Thomas W. Baird is a son of Peter Baird, who lives on Brush Creek, where Thomas was born and reared.

This boy either worked in the coal mine or on the farm all the time until 1910 except a few months, which he spent in the public school and two school terms, three months each, which he spent at Barbourville in school.

In 1910 he learned of a very inexpensive school, Berea College, consequently he and his folk thought it expedient and wise to enter that school, if he should ever even hope to complete his education. He entered Berea in 1910; in 1911 he finished the eighth grade; in 1912 he taught his home school; in June, 1915, he completed the four year academic course and at present he is in a few weeks of the completion of a two year college course. During the summer months of these six years he has worked in the coal mines, factories and any place where the remuneration would guarantee his school expenses for the following year. In this way and with his work during the school years, he has paid every dollar of his expenses from beginning to end. On entering that college he immediately gained the confidence of the faculty and at the present time he has the greatest confidence of the entire student body and faculty, who number more than 1600.

None of the Bairds previous to this have ever asked for an office in this county, except A. C. Baird, who was Assessor a number of years ago.

Thomas Baird sincerely desires that the voters of this county learn of him, his life and his ability, and after doing this, if they think he deserves the nomination, he assures them that they shall have the most efficient service and will be kindly remembered by him and his friends.

Don't Risk Neglect

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or kidney and bladder disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. A Barbourville case.

Mrs. Eliza Fuller, School street, says: "I had severe backaches and ached all over. My kidneys acted irregularly and I could hardly keep going, because I felt miserable day and night. I had rheumatic twinges in my limbs and joints. When a friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills, I bought some from the Costello Drug Company. They rid me of the backaches and pains in my limbs and regulated the action of my kidneys."

WHY YOU NEED A NEW TAX SYSTEM

Proposed Changes In The Laws Being Considered By The Legislature

When land grows stale and unproductive it may be allowed to lie fallow for a while but in time the owner will awake to the realization that he is losing money on his investment and will seek for means to make it pay as he knows the loss on the fallow land must be borne by his productive fields.

For twenty-five years under a beneficial taxing system the State of Kentucky has had a lot of fallow land and other unproductive property lying around and contributing nothing to the revenue and the expense of running the government has been imposed on other land and property in sight and easily taxed.

The tax rate has been increased thirty-seven and one-half (37½) per cent and the assessments of property sixty (60) per cent but the revenue has not kept up with the expenditures and the State has piled up a debt of Four Million Dollars, which is increasing at the rate of Sixty Thousand Dollars per month.

The State needs more money for Schools, Roads and the support of its institutions and every year will see an increase in the assessment of the same property with a probability of an increase in the tax rate unless some plan can be found to discover other sources of revenue from other property to be taxed.

There is said to be over a Billion and a Quarter of notated property in the State which local assessors are apparently unable to discover and as this represents more in value than the property taxed it is very plain that the latter is overburdened.

The State Tax Commission appointed under Resolution of the Legislature of 1916, composed of three Senators and four Representatives, from the Counties of Harlan, Bourbon, Allen, Lyon, Carlisle, Shelby and Jefferson, of different political affiliations, farmers, lawyers and business men—after seven months' labor in investigating the tax laws of this and other States has proposed a remedy and the Legislature has been called in extraordinary session to consider same.

The New Laws embody the practical and successful methods of taxation in vogue in other prosperous States as applied to existing conditions in Kentucky.

They involve no intricate or revolutionary changes, but leave the taxation of property for State purposes undisturbed except in the reduction of the tax rate from 55 to 40 cents and propose to secure additional revenue largely from property not now contributing its fair share of taxes. This and other changes in State taxes is in placing a gradual tax on bank deposits, which will bring in a revenue of not less than One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) from a source now contributing less than Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000.00)—this is one of the certain results.

The only radical change is in eliminating Intangible Personal Property. Agricultural implements, Manufacturing Machinery and Raw Material in process of manufacture from local taxation, by counties and towns, but as the items affected represent only a comparatively small part of the revenue the beneficial effects of the change will be far greater than the losses to counties and towns, and the collective advantage will be enormous.

The principle and purpose of classifying property for taxation is to make all classes bear a proportionate share of the burden and for property not contributing to pay towards the support of the government.

The plan is to tax property instead of persons and as nearly every taxpayer owns more than one class of property the taxes of all are uniform on each class. All classes will be taxed for State purposes and all improvements and some kinds of tangible property will be taxed for County purposes where the owner resides in the county and also for Town and County purposes if the owner lives in a Town. The reason is obvious, as real and tangible property is valuable according to its location, and farming land is benefited by County improvements, roads and schools and Town lots and improvements by the protection and facilities afforded by Towns. This is national and fair to all.

There is no law that limits the kind of property a person may invest in or own, but the law may fix the taxes on any kind of property as long as the owner of each class pays the same taxes to pay on the same class or classes he may decide to invest in. This is the only uniform plan of taxation ever devised.

If a man resides in a Town or City he should pay for the privilege in Town or City taxes. If he prefers the country he should pay for the County expenses. As both live in the State both should pay for the expenses of the State government.

It is a well founded theory that the workman should not be taxed on his tools, which are his third hand, and to tax the implements of the farmer or the machinery of the factory is unjustifiable under any pretext. The Constitution, however, forbids the taxation of such property from State taxation and the best that can be done is to eliminate it from town and county taxes.

As to Intangible Property, on which the development of the State depends, there is no sense in throttling the sources of wealth, and as summary laws simply drive such property away, the approved modern method of taxing it is by limiting the tax to the State revenue and thereby bringing it to light. Such property limited in its productive income cannot and will not stand quadruple taxation for State, County, Town and Schools consuming from one-half to two-thirds of the interest, and as it is neither subject to equalization or exemptions, as other personal property, and assessed at a higher percentage, when located, the tax amounts to practical confiscation and in consequence 75 per cent. of it now evades all taxation.

These are the problems the Legislature has to meet and may they act wisely and fairly to all should be the prayer of all who have the interest of the State at heart.
